W. J. Hess has opened the cleanest and best appointed restaurant in Astoria at 120 Eleventh street. The best the market, and the promptest service.

There is a restaurant in town which makes a specialty of serving fine meals, where prompt and good service can always be relied upon. This is the California Restaurant, which has just opened under new management, and is well worth visiting.

The steamer George W. Elder is still on the rock where she struck two months ago. The salvage owners are endeavoring to get her off, but are making slow progress.

Christensen & Co. will open a meat market at Seaside in the building formerly occupied by Lloyd Griffiths at the east end of the Necanicum bridge the first of next month.

R. M. Ganton carries a full and complete line of wagons, buggies, plows, harrows and all kinds of farm tools and machinery at 105 Fourteenth street, Astoria, Ore.

The new store building being built by P. Lawler & Co. for P. Dresser & Co. at Seaside is being rapidly completed and it is expected to have it finished by the first of the month.

Families desiring either Colonial or Shalwater bay oysters can always secure them fresh at the Imperial oyster house, which makes a specialty of supplying families or parties.

The civic improvement league of Portland are uncovering considerable filth, and they allege that Food Commissioner Bailey don't know the difference between rotten fish and sauerkraut. It is about all a state officer can do to draw his salary, without attending to any of the duties of the office.

The sale advertised at the Morse department store has been a winner and the store is crowded by shoppers taking advantage of the bargains offered. The Morse department store is a strictly home institution and is not a branch of any Portland concern. The money is kept at home and such enterprise is deserving of the patronage of the people.

Officer Charles Gammel arrested a drunken man yesterday and conveyed him to the barracks. When he neared the palatial headquarters, the man showed fight and Gammel accompanied him. In the fracas, Gammel squeezed the man so hard, that 12 eggs, which he carried in a handkerchief in his pocket were made into scrambled eggs.

The county court will go over the Smith's point road today with E. A. and F. J. Taylor with a view of ascertaining the best method of building a road around the point to connect with the road leading to the Young's bay bridge. The court has practically decided to improve the entire road and will probably advertise for bids for making the improvement this week.

Albin Palmberg, a brother of C. G. Palmberg and Emil Palmberg, died yesterday afternoon at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland of consumption. The remains will arrive in Astoria today and the funeral will probably take place tomorrow. Mr. Palmberg went to Alaska during the first rush and had an attack of pneumonia which developed into consumption. He was a member of the local lodge of Elks.

When the statement was published in yesterday's Astorian that the Standard Oil Company was building a fire trap at the foot of Fifth street, there were a number of indignant people in Astoria. They had placed reliance on the common council to see that an ordinance was passed prohibiting the erection of oil tanks within the city limits, and their remarks were not complimentary to that body.

There are some people in Astoria who are opposed to outside capitalists coming to Astoria and investing money. The Callender Navigation Company has invested over $50,000 in Astoria this year, and some people imagine that the primitive boats of the old mossback regime are sufficient for all purposes at the present time. When the newspapers decry improvements, it gives others an excuse. Astoria will forge ahead when some of the stumbling blocks are removed.

Two alarms of fire were turned in yesterday. The first was yesterday morning about 4 o'clock when the department was called out for a fire in a henhouse on the top of Fourteenth street, belonging to G. L. Beck. The house and contents were totally destroyed, and no insurance. The second alarm was caused by a fire in the roof of an old shack at the corner of Eighth and Commercial streets. The fire originated from a defective flue. The damage can be repaired by repairing the roof.

Coroner Pohl went over to Ft. Stevens yesterday and held an inquest on the body of E. E. Phillips, who was killed at that place. The jury visited the scene of the accident and took the evidence of a number of people. They returned a verdict of accidental death. At the time of the accident Phillips, with his engine, was drawing a train load of rock for the jetty, and in attempting to make the switch, it is supposed that the engine was slowed down and the momentum from the rock cars forced the engine to jump the track. The report published in the Oregonian of the accident was wholly untrue.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at the house of Mrs. Harriet Anstadt, Upper Astoria when her daughter Bertha became Mrs. Arthur W. Attridge. Rev. Wm. Seymour Short performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends and a dainty wedding feast was served and a number of beautiful and useful presents, consisting of silver and cut glass were received. The bride is well known in the city and the groom is a prosperous mill man of Winslow, Wash., where the young couple will make their future home.

Is there a town in the state that can produce anything to beat the window display of Herman Wise's fine store? It makes one feel in Fairyland and the famous "Benjamin" make of Business, Dress and Outing Suits, is shown at its best; it is such clothing that the leading clothiers in America have built reputations on; those desiring suits of character, that will not only look well at first, but stay nice, will naturally conserve their own interests by buying their Easter outfits from Herman Wise—$10 to $30.

The Astoria Grocery has adopted the new way of advertising. Instead of using paid locals, they are going to use display space hereafter. Our readers will find that these display ads will be of as much importance as news. In fact they will be news—grocery and vegetable news, fresh from the Astoria Grocery store every Thursday and Sunday. Watch for these changes in their announcement. Up-to-date buyers always watch the announcements of up-to-date merchants. Do you?

Percy Tagg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Tagg of Clatsop, was brought to the hospital yesterday suffering from appendicitis. An operation was performed in the afternoon, an abscess having formed, necessitating the removal of the appendix. The operation was successfully performed by Dr. Fulton and the young man is resting easy and his recovery is assured.

C. W. Carnahan reports that work on the Cullaby lake canal is progressing satisfactory. Considerable delay has been caused by floating logs, but it is expected to have it completed this fall.

Death of Samuel H. Maddock.
Samuel H. Maddock died at his residence on Seventeenth street yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock after a long illness of cancer of the liver. The deceased was a native of Egremont, Cheshire, England, aged 51 years, 1 month and 21 days. He came to Clatsop county about 20 years ago and went to Seaside, where he was employed by H. F. L. Logan. He was also employed by J. G. Meglar as a bookkeeper, but of late years has been in the employ of the Columbia River Packers' Association.

"Sam," as he was familiarly called, was a whole-souled, genial and affable gentleman, honest and upright in all his dealings with his fellow man, and was honored and respected by all who knew him. He was a true friend, a kind and devoted husband and leaves a host of friends to mourn his loss. He was a member of Seaside lodge A. O. U. W. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Are You Sure

That you are getting the best potatoes the market affords. You will be, if you order a sack of our fancy

COLORADO POTATOES.

They came from the state of Colorado, near the town of Greeley, where the soil is especially adapted to potato raising. Grown several thousand feet above sea level in a sandy soil, not unduly moist, these potatoes are thin-skinned and when served at your table, have just the right flavor. They are just

DELICIOUS AND MEALY.

Why not try a sack today. The price is the same as on other potatoes—
